BERATI IS OBJECTIVE OF GREEKS

Paced by Low-Flying Helic and British Planes. Reported Bombing and Machine-Gunning Retreating Italians, Captors of Klisura Press Onward Toward Another Important Fascist Base. More Prisoners and Taken

NAZI FLIERS ACTIVE IN MEDITERRANEAN

BULLETIN
Cairo, Egypt, Jan. 11.—(P)—The R.A.C. today reported night attacks on the Italian airbases at Benina and Berka in Libya had resulted in hits on barracks, hangars, runways and grounded planes.

By the Associated Press
Athens, Jan. 11.—Paced by low-flying Greek and British planes reported bombing and machine-gunning retreating Italians, the Greek captors of Klisura pressed onward toward Berat, Albania, today, according to dispatches from the front.

Important heights dominating the road to Berat, north of fallen Klisura, were reported occupied and additional prisoners and war materials taken by the Greeks.

A large number of fully loaded supply trucks were said to have been abandoned by the Italians. Others were knocked out of commission by Greek armor.

Italian casualties in the Klisura sector, about 30 miles south of Berat, were reported heavy.

The Athens radio said 400 Italian dead were found in the abandoned lines at one point, indicating a desperate resistance while the Greeks were laying siege to the mountain highway town.

Many of the Italian wounded had to be abandoned in the retreat, it was said, and these were cared for by Greek field surgeons.

The Italian position at Tepelini, west of Klisura, and one objective of the two-pronged offensive based on that captured town, was reported, nevertheless, still strong, but becoming more difficult.

In the coastal sector the Italians were making a stubborn defense. They refrained from counter-attacks in the past few days, it was said. Bad weather over most of the front made operations difficult.

The British Royal Air Force reported that "enemy troops and motorized convoys, including tanks," were "in full retreat" from Klisura, which was occupied yesterday by Greek troops.

HAS HEART ATTACK

Philadelphia, Jan. 11.—(P)—Millions who had howled hilarious approval of a little Hungarian comedian and his incessant "wanna buy a duck?" were touched by sadness today with the death of Joe Penner.

The 36-year-old funnyman who brought the nation many a laugh through radio, the screen and stage with his "you nasty man" gags and his insane duck-selling query died peacefully in his sleep yesterday. Pending an autopsy, physicians tentatively listed the cause as a heart attack.

Germany Loses First Bomber to an American Aircraft

London, Jan. 11.—(P)—The air ministry announced today that "Germany has lost her first bomber to an American fighter aircraft downed by a British pilot."

The ministry told the story this way: "Three of these (American) aircraft were on patrol when weather conditions necessitated recall to their bases."

"The leader had actually landed when he caught sight of a JU-88 (Junkers bomber). He promptly took off again and, climbing back into the clouds, rejoined his two companions just as one of them opened fire on the raider."

"Smoke at once enveloped the raider and when the leader joined the fight the machine began to lose height, as the pilot apparently searched for a landing place."

"The crippled raider glided down and the three aircraft kept close watch to make sure it was not a ruse to dodge away in the mist. The JU-88 eventually crashed in a bog."

"The fight was watched by a re- (Turn to Page Nine)

TOT FATALLY BURNED

REICH AIR FORCE CHIEF REFUTES BRITISH CLAIMS

Berlin, Jan. 11.—(P)—Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering declared tonight that not a single German factory has been "put out of commission by the British." He contrasted this with what he said was the destruction of many plants in Britain.

Goering, head of the German air force and Adolf Hitler's No. 1 lieutenant, speaking before 574 miners honored with the War Service Cross, said that destruction of munitions plants—not attic fires—was a decisive factor in war.

Forecast for Sunday Is Fair and Warmer

Pittsburgh, Jan. 11.—(P)—Western Pennsylvania was blanketed with several inches of snow today, causing many traffic accidents. Weather experts predicted more snow and colder through the day and night.

An auto crash near suburban Carnegie, in which two women were killed and three persons hurt, was blamed on the snowstorm.

Skidding into another car, an auto bearing five persons was crushed last night. Mrs. Gus Winters, 58, and Mrs. Mary Haley, 52, both of McDonald, were dead when extricated from the wreckage.

Gus Winters, 55 and Mrs. Frank Winters, 54, were seriously hurt. Frank Winters, 68, a brother of Gus, received minor injuries. The driver of the other car escaped injury.

Highway crews cleared roads, but the snowfall continued, making driving hazardous.

The forecast for Sunday, however, was fair and warmer.

Harrisburg reported clear weather, with a four-mile visibility and temperature of 23.

HEAVY ATTACK CONCENTRATED ON PORTSMOUTH

Massed Waves of Bombers Loose Hundreds of Incendiary Shells Over Large Naval Base Causing Widespread Havoc And Killing Many

LE HAVRE SHELLED

London, Jan. 11.—(P)—London's sirens screamed just at nightfall, signalling the return of German air raiders to the siege of the city.

Portsmouth, England, Jan. 11.—(P)—The Luftwaffe, sticking to its "one town nightly" program, concentrated a heavy attack during the night on Portsmouth, Britain's biggest naval base.

Massed waves of bombers loosed hundreds of incendiary bombs, causing widespread havoc.

The government said "a number" of persons were killed and "considerable damage done to buildings and houses in the attack. In some areas of Portsmouth, residents were ordered away from their homes because of delayed action bombs."

(Informal quarters in Berlin described the assault on Portsmouth as a "large scale" raid.)

One high explosive bomb was said to have registered a direct hit on an air raid precautions post, blasting it to bits, and casualties were believed heavy there.

NEW PACT BROADENS RELATIONS

Agreement Under Which Russia Undertakes to Increase Her Contributions To Germany's Wartime Breadbasket is Viewed Officially in Moscow as Fresh Evidence of "Mutual Confidence" Between The Soviet and Reich

FOLLOWS WEEKS OF INCREASING TENSION

By The Associated Press
Moscow, Jan. 11.—(P)—The new trade pact under which Russia undertakes to increase her contributions to Germany's wartime breadbasket was viewed officially in Moscow today as fresh evidence of "mutual confidence" between the Soviet and the Reich.

A Russian communique on the five agreements signed yesterday at the Kremlin declared last night that "all economic problems" between the countries had been settled.

Tass, official Soviet news agency, added that the pacts were negotiated "in the spirit of mutual understanding and confidence conforming to the friendly relations existing between the U. S. S. R. and Germany."

Besides broadening trade relations between the countries, the agreements were said to have fixed mutual boundaries in newly acquired territories and settled resulting repatriation problems.

(The signing of the pacts followed weeks of increasing tension in the Balkans, where the massing of troops and reports of disagreements over control of the mouths of the Danube have given rise to speculation that German-Russian relations might be badly strained.)

To carry out the repatriation process, expected to be completed in 75 days, simultaneous agreements were signed in Riga, Latvia, and Kaunas, Lithuania, to cover the Baltic states absorbed by Russia.

In this process, 40,000 Germans are expected to return to the Reich from Lithuania and 10,000 from Latvia and Estonia. Russians living in German Memelland (northeastern tip of German East Prussia) and the Suwalki district of German-occupied Poland also will return to their homeland.

Provision was made for settlements between Russia and Germany for property owned by their nationals in territory taken over.

Under the trade agreement, Russia promised to send Germany wheat, oil, cotton, flax, manganese (Turn to Page Nine)

WITNESS SAYS MISTAKE MADE IN TESTIMONY

Washington, Jan. 11.—(P)—Oliver A. Quayle, general manager of the Democratic national committee, told the Senate campaign committee today that he had "made a mistake" in testifying two days ago that he personally arranged for loans of $300,000 from the 1940 Democratic campaign from R. J. Reynolds.

MISSOURI DEMS MOVE TO BLOCK G. O. P. GOVERNOR

General Assembly, in Up-roarious All-night Session, Refuses to Certify Forrest Donnell, a Republican, as New State Executive

INQUIRY IS ORDERED

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 11.—(P)—The Democratic-controlled general assembly, in an up-roarious all-night session, refused to certify Forrest Donnell, a Republican, as governor-elect and adopted a resolution calling for a joint house-senate investigation of the November gubernatorial election.

The investigation would involve opening the ballot boxes in every county and the city of St. Louis.

The action will prevent Donnell's scheduled inauguration Monday and will keep Gov. Lloyd Stark, Democrat, in office until investigation of the election and hearing of a contest is completed.

Official returns gave Donnell a plurality of 2,613 votes over his Democratic opponent, Lawrence McDaniel.

The assembly voted 101 to 78 to certify all of the apparent winners in the November election except Donnell, and a few minutes later voted 118 to 61 to hear a contest petition filed by James T. Blair of Jefferson City, a Democratic county chairman.

Action of the Democratic majority brought heated answers from the Republican side.

"You'll rue this day," Rep. O. E. Whitaker, Republican, shouted. "You can keep Donnell out of (Turn to Page Nine)

FORMER KLAN LEADER IS DENIED CLEMENCY

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—(P)—D. C. Stephenson, who once ruled Indiana politics from the grand dragon's throne of the Ku Klux Klan, must remain longer in the prison where he has spent 15 years for murder.

The state clemency commission which considered his petition for parole told Governor M. Clifford Townsend that Stephenson has not served sufficient time to merit clemency. The governor, concurring, rejected the petition last night.

Stephenson was convicted of second degree murder in 1925 for the death of Miss Madge Oberholzer, a statehouse stenographer. He was sentenced to life imprisonment.

First January Draft Contingent Goes to Capital Today for Induction Into Army

Hundred and Eighteen Men From Central Pennsylvania Counties Forerunner of 3,434 to Enter Selective Service During Month

GUARD UNITS NEXT

Harrisburg, Jan. 11.—(P)—One hundred and eighteen men from central Pennsylvania counties came to the capital today as the first contingent of 3,434 who will enter the army from the state during January through the selective service system for a year's military training.

They will be followed on Monday by a second group of 121 white men and three negroes and on January 14 by a third contingent of 131 whites and one negro.

At intervals during the month, similar groups, selected by the 42nd local draft boards, will report at the other four induction centers at Philadelphia, Wilkes-Barre, Altoona, and Pittsburgh.

While Pennsylvania is making another contribution of its manpower to the federal army, it is making another contribution of its manpower to the federal navy.

GOVERNOR PLANNING BROADCAST FRIDAY

Harrisburg, Jan. 11.—(P)—A state-wide broadcast by Governor Arthur H. James covering his first two years in office will be delivered from the executive mansion Friday night.

"It's my second anniversary," the governor explained, pointing out that he was inaugurated January 17, 1939.

Exact time for the broadcast, which will be made during a supper for cabinet members and other executives of the administration, has not yet been settled.

NAME GROUP TO COMPLETE DEAL FOR SEA BASES

Washington, Jan. 11.—(P)—The State Department announced today that a delegation of American officials would leave for London on January 17 to work out formal leases for American naval and air bases acquired from Great Britain.

The eight bases in the western hemisphere were received in return for 50 World War destroyers transferred to Great Britain.

The announcement said: "The president has designated the following American officials to proceed to London to work out the technical details of the formal leases in connection with the military bases of the United States in Newfoundland, Bermuda, the Bahamas, Jamaica, St. Lucia, Trinidad, Antigua, and British Guiana agreed upon in exchange of notes between the governments of the United States and Great Britain under date of September 2, 1940."

"Charles F. Eby, assistant solicitor general, Colonel Harry J. Maloney, field artillery, United States army; Commander Harold B. Benson, United States navy," Benson announced, added that these officials would go to Lisbon via airplane from New York.

Specific Methods by Which Administration Would Extend Assistance to Britain Under Proposed Lease-Lend Measure Begin to Take Shape as Opponents Call for Restriction of Vast Powers it Would Confer

INITIAL ACTION IS EXPECTED IN HOUSE

Washington, Jan. 11.—(P)—Specific methods by which the administration would extend aid to Britain under the proposed lease-lend bill began to take shape today as congressional critics called for restriction of the vast power which the measure would confer upon President Roosevelt.

Senator Byrnes (D-SC), who participated in preliminary conferences on the legislation introduced in congress yesterday, said it was likely that, if approved, the lease-lend program would be put into operation by the president chiefly through the new office of production management.

This, it was said, would make for complete correlation from start to finish between production for American and that for British use. The office, headed by William S. Knudsen, Stinson Hillman, with Secretaries Sidney and Knox as members, already has been charged by the president with full responsibility for American production.

In addition, other sources said that agencies such as the Reconstruction Finance Corporation might be called upon to handle some phases of the program.

The first necessity for making the program effective, Byrnes said, is a survey of production capacity to determine exactly how much and what kinds of equipment can be supplied to the British. He predicted that the chief items to be furnished would be airplanes, destroyers and cargo vessels. These, he said, are the things which Britain is most anxious to obtain.

At the capital, with both senate and house in recess, administration leaders laid plans for hastening (Turn to Page Nine)

BLASTS IN 1917 ARE RECALLED

New York, Jan. 11.—(P)—The Bethlehem Steel Co. and Lehigh Valley Railroad today received checks aggregating $12,056,845 in settlement of claims growing out of the Black Tom and Kingsland explosions of the war days of 1917.

Of the total, Bethlehem received $2,238,245 and Lehigh $9,818,595, but it was not exactly the last chapter in the 24-year-old litigation for the railroad, as it placed 50 per cent of the funds in escrow pending determination of the amount to be paid attorneys and investigators who worked on the case.

The American member of the mixed claims commission will decide how much of the funds are to be disbursed for these services, although the railroad previously had contracted to pay 50 per cent of the amount collected. The fact that the funds were placed in escrow pending final determination indicated the fees and expenses might not be less than the 50 per cent agreed upon.

The Lehigh Valley owed $1,558,251.02 of the total amount received to pay off its outstanding loan to the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

Influenza Epidemic Sweeps New England

Boston, Jan. 11.—(P)—Thousands of New Englanders suffered today in a wave of the grippe, colds and a mild form of influenza with 13,000 children absent from school in Boston alone in the past two days because of illness.

Hopeful that conditions would improve over the weekend, officials of the city's schools said classes would be conducted as usual on Monday. Nurses will be on duty to send home any child with a cold.

Command today to have participated in an Italian dive-bombing and torpedo plane attack which damaged two British aircraft carriers and a destroyer in the central Mediterranean.

The daily war bulletin said a cruiser also was hit in the air raid on the British naval units "in the Sicilian channel." It credited damage of one aircraft carrier and the cruiser to Italian forces and said German fighters scored hits on the other plane carrier and the destroyer.

The High Command said the German flyers "succeeded in hitting one of the aircraft carriers with heavy and medium bombs" and "also hit the destroyer."

The port of Valletta, on the British island of Malta, was reported bombed heavily early today.

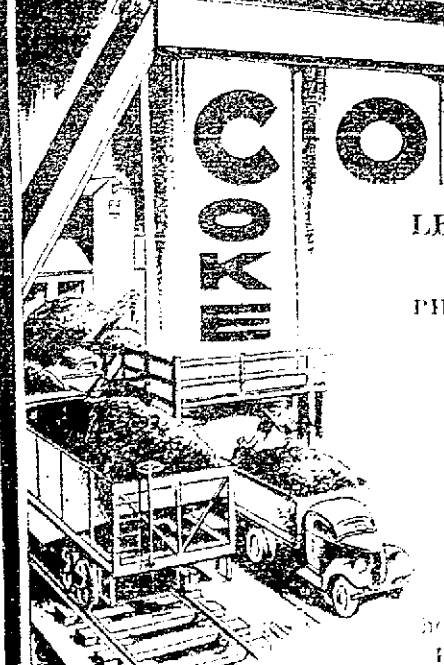

"Local actions" were reported on the Albanian front, where the High Command said fighting continued in the 11th Army sector. Elsewhere Greek attacks were reported repulsed.

One British plane was reported shot down during RAF attacks on Tobruk and the coastal base at Bengasi, 320 miles farther west. In these raids nine Mohammedans were reported killed and four injured.

Reinforcing British motorized units were said to have been driven back on the Sudan front.

One British plane was reported shot down in a raid on Eritrea.

Closer home, the Italians reported shooting down a British plane in the Gulf of Naples, and said the British raided the port of Palermo, Sicily, yesterday evening causing some damage to docks but no casualties.

VETERANS PLAN FIRST MEETING MONDAY EVENING

Members of Chief Cornplanter Post will hold their first meeting of the year Monday at 8 o'clock and from all indications it promises to be an important one. Commander N. K. Vandenberg stated this morning that he is desirous of having a good turnout as there are many matters of interest to come up at Monday night's meeting.

A committee will be appointed to arrange details of Department Commander Charles Cook's visit to Warren. Tentative plans call for the department commander to arrive in Warren on February 21 and part of the 22nd. For many years Warren county Legion posts have made it the custom to entertain the department commander on Washington's birthday. This year the date of the banquet has been advanced to Friday, February 21st and it is expected that a busy program will be outlined to cover the period of this annual visit.

Major P. J. Stevenson, a member of the Legion, will be a special honor guest at the Legion meeting Monday. Major Stevenson has recently been ordered out for a year of duty with the coast artillery and will be leaving Warren in a short time. His friends in the Legion want to show him some recognition before he leaves and have set aside this meeting in honor of "Pete."

All the group which will comprise Warren county's next draft contingent have also been invited to the Legion Home Monday at 9 o'clock where they will be entertained, along with Legion members, in a social evening following the regular meeting. As men from all over the county will be represented a large turnout is looked for.

Junior Vice Commander Meade announces that the annual Legion dinner will be held at the Legion Home Friday, January 17th at 6:30. This will be a party for Legion members and all ex-service men. Members of the Legion will be invited throughout the county. These annual dinners have become popular with Legionnaires and each year has seen larger groups attending. Because of the date the main course will not consist solely of venison. There will be an abundance of fish and a variety of other food.

More details of this dinner will be known by Monday and will be announced at the meeting. Commander Wendelboe wishes to emphasize, however, that this will be a stag night and guests will be limited to ex-service men of the county; Legion members or otherwise.

LOCAL MAN TO BE ARRAIGNED IN RADIO THEFT

Sheriff William C. Stuart last night returned from Cleveland where he took into custody Charles Knott, 24, of this city, a driver for a Cleveland trucking concern, who was arrested in connection with the theft and subsequent sale of over a hundred radios.

Knott was lodged in the county jail and will be arraigned later on a charge of larceny in bail.

It is alleged that Knott stole 112 radios which were on the truck he was driving between Chicago and Philadelphia on December 20 and disposed of them in this city and elsewhere in the county. The radios were valued at about $15 apiece and were consigned to Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Sheriff Stuart stated today that he has recovered all but a few of the radios.

Knott was arrested by Cleveland detectives on the warrant issued by Justice of the Peace T. Richard Evans. District Attorney Joseph H. Goldstein and Sheriff Stuart have been engaged in the investigation of the case for the past two weeks.

The district attorney stated this morning that he has communicated with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, due to the fact that the articles stolen were in interstate traffic, and that further developments on the prosecution of the case will await information from the federal authorities.

Tucson, Arizona, is the colorful scene of Columbia's great motion picture spectacle, "Arizona," which opens Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Library Theatre with Jean Arthur starred and a supporting cast of thousands headed by William Holden, Warren William and Porter Hall. Produced and directed by Wesley Ruggles, "Arizona" has been hailed as the mightiest outdoor action drama of all time, a turbulent romance and a magnificent adventure.

The story of Tucson in 1880, when advancing civilization whipped into submission the police station, the Indians and the bad men, when that very civilization brought into the far frontier the terrors and trials of a civil war, "Arizona" has won the approval of motion picture critics and fans in every section of America for its amazing, absorbing spectacle of a nation being born. Miss Arthur is seen as Phoebe Titus, lone white woman in the Arizona territory, who dreams of the time when the land will be at peace, free from savage Indian raids and lawless frontier killers, and who courageously battles both to bring that day nearer.

DESCRIBES SPY ACTIVITIES IN FORUM ADDRESS

Appearing under the auspices of the local Y. M. C. A. Lecture Forum, Richard Wilmer Rowan addressed a large audience last evening in the Woman's Club auditorium, reciting many incidents of sabotage and espionage that have earned for him the reputation of authority on international secret service work and its complications.

Although Mr. Rowan did not tell his listeners of any outstanding sabotage in this country, his recital of spy activities and counter espionage in foreign countries brought its implication of a very real danger confronting the United States and the other Americas in this present time of European trouble.

He did not offer any remedy for the spy situation in this country, denying his qualification to do so, but did stress a tightening of laws and penalties that will bring just retribution to traitors and remove the cloak of diplomatic immunity that covers so completely the activities of representatives of foreign governments in this country.

Speaking rapidly and forcefully, Mr. Rowan emphasized many items in the news of the past months, referring to the long history of employment of spies that has led up to the terrorism being employed today by the dictator nations in a new kind of secret service. He told of his own two books, "The Story of Secret Service" and "Terror in Our Times," referred to the current situation in Latin American countries and spoke of actual happenings, such as the fate of the Graf Spee at Montevideo, the fifth column boast used in the siege of Madrid, the sinking of the Royal Oak in Scapa Flow, and many others.

He detailed Germany's actions in aggressive activities against Austria, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Norway, The Netherlands and France; the present conflict with England and extension of a great espionage network to this continent.

He explained that it is not habit or mere accident that brought spies of the dictators to this country and that a real effort will be necessary to combat them and eventually to defeat them.

In closing, Mr. Rowan stated it is his sincere belief that the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Army, Navy and Coast Guard Intelligence Service are doing everything that can be done under the present set-up.

A brief question period followed the very interesting address.

In opening the forum, General Secretary E. W. Reynolds spoke of the coming Rotary Club Institute of Understanding and the appearance of H. R. Knickerbocker on February 28. He then presented Robert C. Amoro, representative of the Phalanx Fraternity, who spoke briefly of that group's aims and membership and in turn introduced Mr. Rowan.

TIMES TOPICS

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual business meeting of the Warren Visiting Nursing Association will be held in the rooms in the municipal building at nine o'clock next Tuesday morning. Officers will be elected and reports presented at that time.

MARCONI DANCE

The weekly dancing party of the Marconi Club will be held this evening. A floor show including singing, tap dancing and comedy will be featured. Orrie Beebe's orchestra will provide the music. The party is for members and their ladies.

TO REBUILD ROAD

Rebuilding of the Oil City-Fryburg road and construction of a new bridge at Rynd Farm have been added to the major program of highway work already set up for Venango county this year. S. W. Jackson, district engineer of the state highway department has revealed.

FAVOR FOOD STAMP PLAN

A resolution proposing that Venango county join with five other counties in northwestern Pennsylvania in adopting the federal food stamp plan was approved at a meeting Wednesday of committee members from the Oil City and Franklin Chambers of Commerce, city representatives and other interested parties.

CIVILIAN TRAINING COURSE

Allegheny College in co-operation with Port Meadville airport has been granted a quota of 20 trainees for the primary course in civilian pilot training and a quota of 10 trainees for the advanced (restricted commercial) course. More than 80 percent of the cost of these courses is borne by the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

TRAPPING RABBITS

Several members of Boy Scout Troop 12 are endeavoring to earn enough money to carry on their Scout program by cooperating with the state game commission in trapping wild live rabbits from within the borough, orchards, nurseries and other places. The game warden, in turn, places the rabbits in other localities. The Scouts will appreciate the privilege of setting box traps on premises where rabbits are objectionable, and anyone desiring to cooperate with them may phone the Scoutmaster, Leo L. Gleese, 1663-R.

"White Sales" Offerings Are Bargains In Name Only Unless They Have Quality Plus Low Price, Says Mrs. Bowen

Dea Friends in Warren:

No one is more justified than the busy homemaker in repeating the familiar saying, "Life is just one thing after another." No sooner is the round of holiday activities over, no sooner are all the "Thank You" letters written (we hope), than comes inventory and "White Sale" time.

January White Sales are an important reminder to check household linens from bedroom to kitchen. Such a sale, at a dependable store, offers a real opportunity to the thrifty housewife to replenish gaps in the linen supply.

However so much "white" merchandise is displayed every January that the careful buyer must be absolutely certain she is getting quality and serviceability at the bargain price. Otherwise there is no profit in buying flimsy sheets and towels that soon wear out.

The time has passed when reputable manufacturers urge shoppers to buy indiscriminately—in quantity—just so long as they buy. Now firms which have a national standing come forth with a list of "do's and don'ts," designed for the average buyer. In other words, the manufacturer is honestly trying to help the buyer to become competent to establish criteria in respect to the linens in which she wishes to dress her home.

First about bed linen. One dependable New England manufacturer declares that five years is not too long a term of service to demand from the best (in the sense of the strongest) sheets and cases, if they are used discreetly in a private family.

The type he referred to is heavy muslin, in which the substantial threads are woven close together in both warp and filling. Yet the sheet has a soft, smooth texture.

Buy percale, heavy muslin, or light muslin sheets. Heavy muslin is the standby for the woman who wants the utmost in service at modest cost. Muslin is the heavier material, and at its best, achieves a soft, smooth texture. Percale is finer and in some of its grades produces sheets of a distinctly luxury type, appealing to consumers to whom price is not important, nor durability a major concern.

Both in muslin and percale, merchandise is to be avoided which is loosely woven and has an irregular, lumpy thread. Cheap sheets often are heavily filled with starch in order to enhance their appearance on the counter. When the starch washes out, as it must do, the sheets will show up in their true character, sleazy and perishable.

Such goods are "bargains" in name only. The homemaker's best protection against such disappointing purchases is to deal with firms which have a national standing, paying a bit more for the quality which they write into the tags on their well-wearing linens.

Four sheets a bed and three cases a pillow are as small a wardrobe as it is comfortable to have; special needs, or unexpected delay in laundering make this a close margin.

Sheet dimensions are important. Five standard widths are available: 54 inches suit a cot bed; 63 inches, single bed; 72 inches, twin bed; 81 inches, double bed; 90 inches, bed of extra width. Four lengths also are offered; these refer to the torn length, not to the lengths of the hemmed sheets.

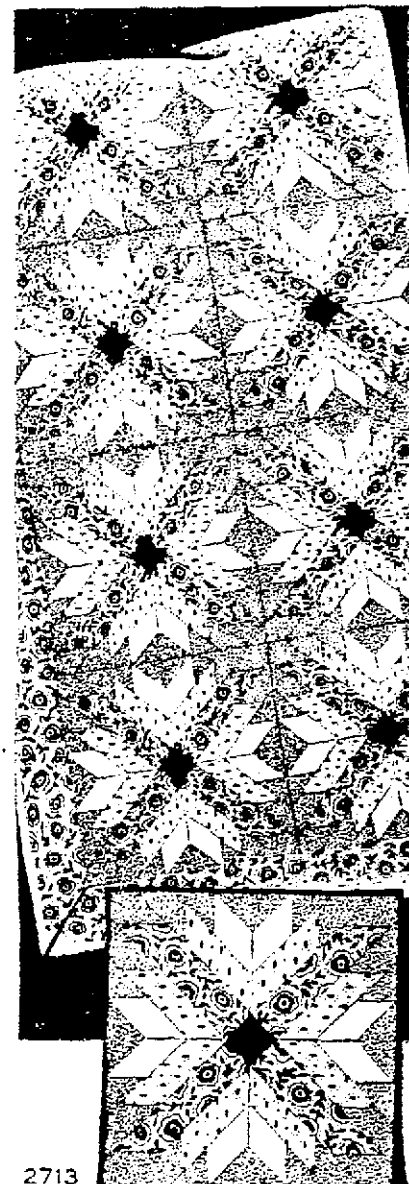

Price is affected by these lengths, which are 90, 99, 108 and 113 inches.

ANGEROUS PLAYTHING

The annual police warning against the use of air rifles in the borough has been issued and it is hoped that parents will cooperate with the authorities to see that youngsters give heed to it.

Parents who give their boys air rifles as Christmas gifts may mean well enough but it must be admitted they are inviting trouble in one form or another.

The modern air rifle is about as dangerous as a .22 weapon. It is capable even of killing at close range, and at long range its slugs may kill or even maim or blind a person for life.

One cannot but feel apprehensive as he sees boys wandering about the streets with air guns in their hands. A little reckless action on their part can result in untold damage, and much human suffering.

The warning by the police authorities is a timely one. Many believe an air rifle is a deadly weapon rather than a toy.

It is good news to learn that the Department of Highways is planning to replace the present iron bridge over the Brokenstraw on Route 27 at Garland with a concrete structure that will more adequately accommodate the heavy travel over that particular stretch of road. The improvement has long been needed.

Warren movie goes in common with others throughout the world, learned with a feeling of sadness of the sudden death of Joe Penner in his Philadelphia hotel yesterday. Pictures starring the eccentric Hungarian comedian were as popular here as those of any other leading entertainer.

Winter is slipping by faster than one realizes—three weeks from tomorrow will be Groundhog Day. Despite the fact, however, the personal columns carry names of a large number of local residents who are leaving to spend the next few weeks in the south.

Reports of coasting accidents in nearby towns suggests the advisability of taking steps to set aside streets to be barricaded for coasting with the first arrival of favorable weather.

Vacant store rooms in the business district are being occupied—now if the idle factories in town can only be started up everything will be lovely.

WEEKLY SERMONETTE

THE NEED OF SPIRITUAL HEALTH

IRVING K. DUTSCHE
Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church

An author, who is not a clergyman, (Dr. Alexis Carrel), has made some very pertinent statements.

"Hygienists would be asked, (if a better understanding prevailed, 'why they concern themselves exclusively with the prevention of organic diseases, and not with that of mental and nervous disturbances. Why do they not pay attention to spiritual health?'

Again quoting Dr. Carrel, 'Why do they segregate people ill with infections, and not those who propagate intellectual and moral maladies? Why the habits responsible for organic diseases are considered dangerous, and not those which bring corruption, criminality and insanity. Economists would realize that human beings think, feel and suffer, that they should be given other things than work, food and leisure, that they have spiritual as well as physiological needs. And also that the causes of economic and financial crisis may be moral and intellectual.'

Man liberated from a material creed would transform most of the aspects of our existence.

It is exceedingly refreshing to read such words from the pen of so great a scientist, but has not the pulpit been making such statements constantly? Have we not been declaring that the wages of sin is death? Selfishness, sin, and the lack of proper consideration of God's requirements concerning spiritual life, must produce their results. To attempt to restore a proper material order without going directly to the cause of the disorder is as sensible as the removal of outward symptoms of an infectious disease without removing the disease.

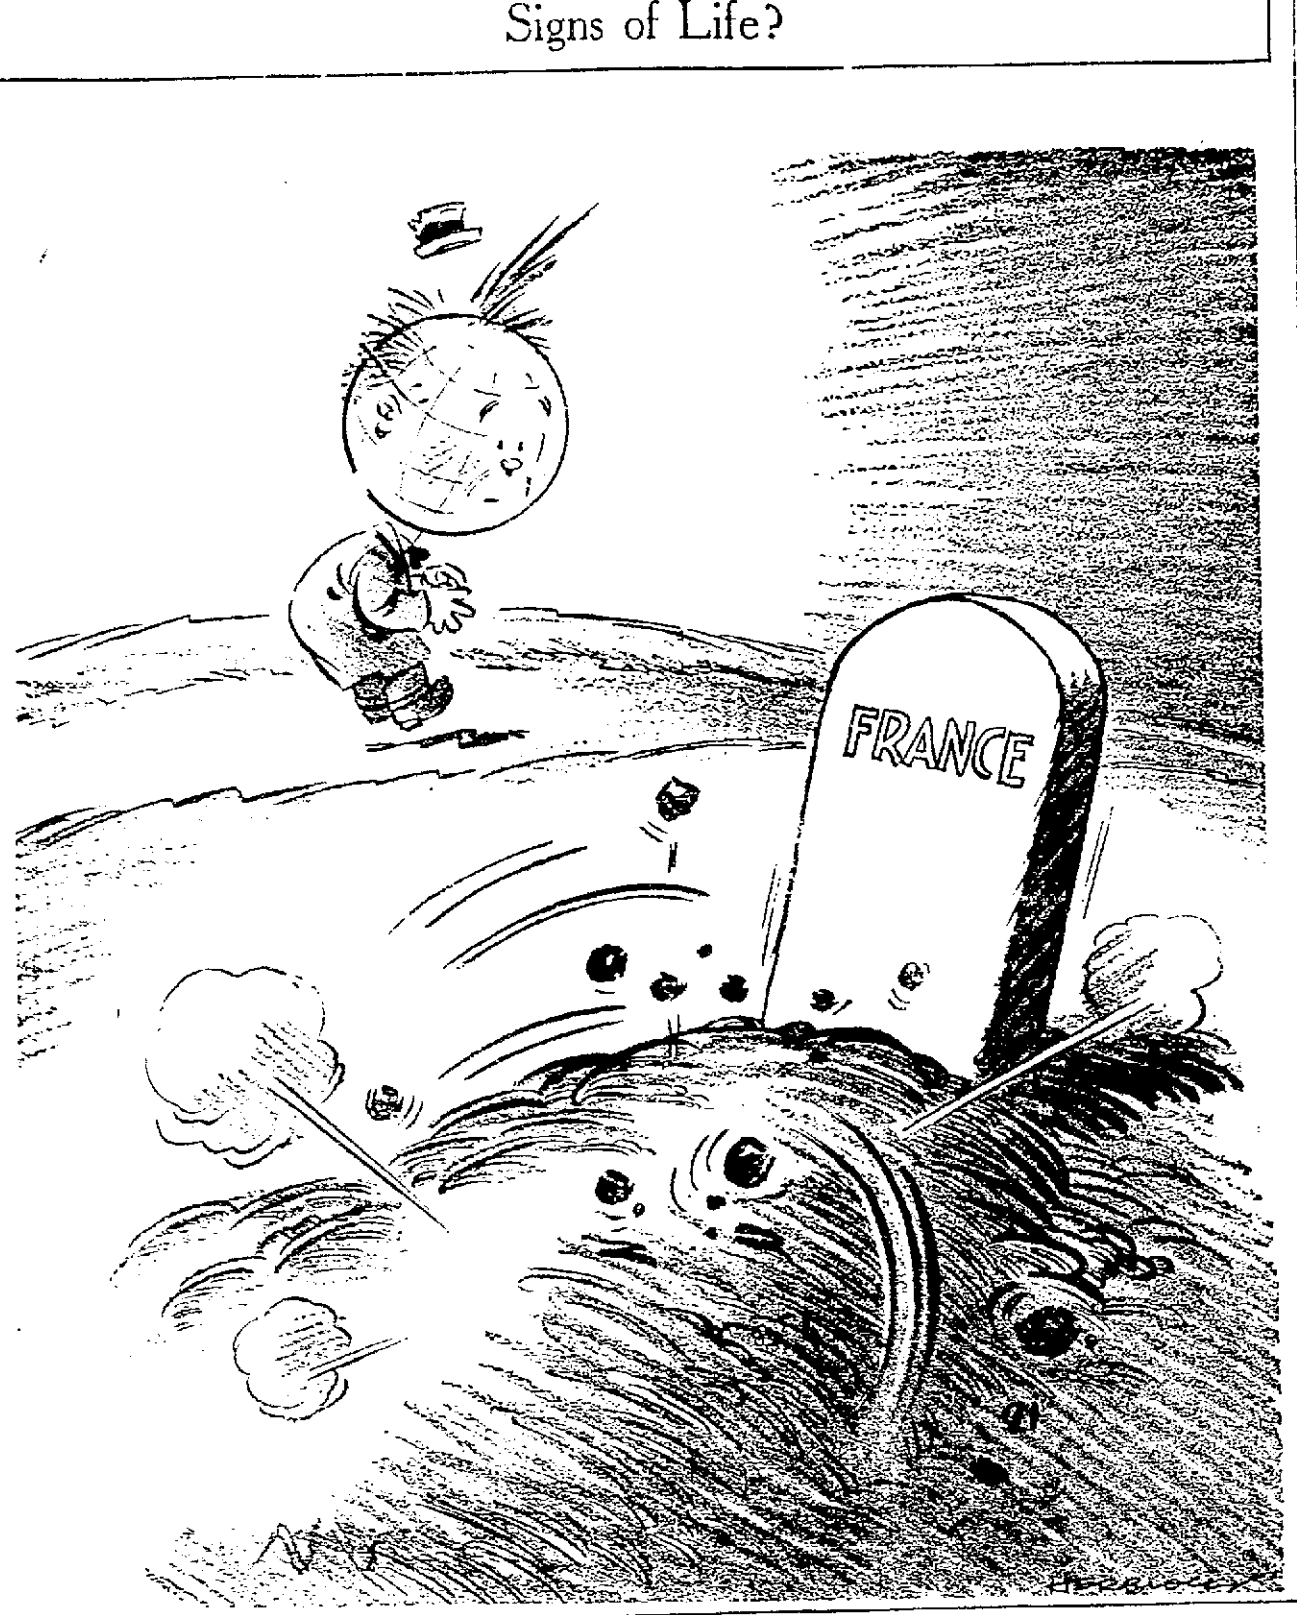

Man brought to another 'Why.' Why do sensible people neglect the church of God that stands for the cultivation of spiritual qualities? If the church in the past has not been as useful as it should have been, why have they not helped to make it more useful? Why do they not see that the cultivation of one side of life, the material, only produces a more aggravated one-sidedness which eventually must upset even the material order?

As we face the new year, may we not be wise enough to strive for a fully developed life and order of things. To our zeal for mental, physical and social development, let us add the necessary balancing factor of spiritual development. May we ever be aware of the dire consequences of failure in this respect.

YOUR NATION'S CAPITOL

By Bruce Catton
The Times-Mirror Washington Correspondent

DEFENSE GROUP CALLS WRITER AS CONSULTANT

Washington, Jan. 11—America won't defeat the fifth column until the native-born, Anglo-Saxon stock American gets a new attitude toward the immigrant and the immigrant's children.

That is the idea Louis Adamie is trying to put over as his contribution to the defense program. An immigrant himself, famous as the author of such books as 'My America' and 'The Native's Return,' Adamie has been called as a consultant to help the Defense Commission work out its policy toward immigrant and minority groups.

The new attitude he wants to see calls for several things—more tolerance, more understanding, more plain, old-fashioned friendliness... plus a realization that an immigrant can be the best sort of American without necessarily dropping his European customs.

How does that fit in with the fifth column danger? Here is Adamie's explanation:

'Every person wants to be identified with something bigger and better than himself. The new immigrant here wants passionately to identify himself with this country. So many times he is made to feel that the country doesn't want him. He's called a wop, or a hunkie, or he's laughed at because of his name.

'So he doesn't get identified with America—for America is not just a place; it's an idea. He remains isolated. Yet he still feels that driving need to be identified with something. And so some foreign movement picks him up. The fifth column gets him.

'Our Germans are often in a bad spot. I recently studied a large American city where live 100,000 German-Americans. They're desperately afraid of war—not because they don't want the United States to beat Hitler, but because they're afraid of what may happen to them if war does come.

'In that city, in the last war, there was one lynching of a German-American. The Nazis have got pictures and accounts of that lynching distributed all over.

'Yet those same Germans don't want Hitler to win.

The general lack of understanding between old-line Americans and the immigrants and their descendants Adamie sums up as 'a vague kind of civil war.'

'A good many of the old-stock Americans incline to be friendly,' he says. 'But they function in a personal way, as neighbor to neighbor. Meanwhile, the unfriendly one is likely to get up on a stump and make a speech or write a book to express his enmity and suspicion. Or he comes down here to Congress and tries to put over some alien-baiting law. He may be in the minority, but he creates a bad attitude—which makes the alien withdraw and feel more than ever unidentified with America.'

Two years ago Adamie got a grant from the Carnegie Foundation to make a comprehensive study of the immigrant in America. Since then he has traveled 200,000 miles, talking to people,

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From the Warren Evening Times

In 1921

The Memorial Park Committee met Monday when the principal subject of discussion was the construction of the park at the north end of the Hickory street bridge, which was held back last year on account of the scarcity of labor and high price of materials. The work of the coming year will be concentrated at that point. The committee has $2,959.34 on hand.

New officers of the Warren National Bank are F. E. Hertz, president; Jerry Cray, vice president; N. C. Hill, cashier; J. M. Sonne, E. W. Johnson, E. M. Branch, assistant cashiers; R. M. Putnam, trust officer; with R. W. Mackay as assistant; H. B. Moench, V. M. Salary, M. A. Connelly and Andrew Nelson, tellers.

The political pot started to simmer this morning when announcement was made that Miss Daniela Wilder, of this city, is in the race for the Republican nomination for Register and Recorder. She has been employed at the court house for over 25 years.

D. H. Higgins, F. M. Knapp, S. Q. Smith, W. H. Hoskins, Homer Preston, Warren Preston, John Siegfried, Robert Jackson and H. A. Higgins were elected directors of the Warren Street Railway company Monday.

In 1931

Trustees of St. Joseph's Cemetery Association were elected last night as follows: F. J. McCoy, W. Guthrie and John Hickey. Present officers are: President, George J. Hesch; vice president, John L. Blair; treasurer, Rev. J. H. Diamond; secretary, Frank J. Masterson; superintendent, A. A. Musante.

The Warren Tank Car Company is one of the local plants that has already felt the turn in business and is adding new men. About 25 former employees have been called back, doubling the force that was employed during the closing weeks of 1930. Ben Mathis is treasurer and general manager.

Vestry and officers of Trinity Memorial parish were chosen last night and are as follows: W. W. Beatty, senior warden; J. H. Alexander, junior warden; C. W. Hooley, treasurer; C. P. Young, clerk; J. A. Rockwell, Robert Truster, W. H. Hurley, S. L. Myer, E. H. Lampe and H. H. McConnell, vestry members.

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—You may be happy to know that the District of Columbia, population of which slops over into Virginia on one side and into Maryland on the other, still can be rated as a farming community.

The decennial agricultural survey of the District has been completed and it is found that Washington still has 65 farms, 39 less than 10 years ago. The area under cultivation amounts to 1,017 acres, and total farm acreage is 2,341.

District farms have 837 cows and 70 horses. The largest crop was sweet potatoes, of which the District raised 3,107 bushels last year. Other good crops included 1,762 bushels of corn, 760 tons of hay and 421 bushels of Irish potatoes.

The amazing thing about District farms is their value. The average farm acre is worth something between $50 and $100, but Washington acres are valued at $2,538 each—which means that if you owned 39 of them, you would be worth very close to $100,000. It also means that 10 years from now the story you will read about District farming probably will be just the reverse of this. It looks as if farm land in Washington is getting pretty close to the price that farmers around here have been holding out for—for 140 years.

The Last Word

THE final Senate session of the 76th Congress adjourned at 11:43 on a Friday morning and the Congressional Record for the session came off the press the following morning. Its publication, disclosed in the index, 11 columns (mostly small type) of the by-then-time, ex-Sen. Rush D. Holt of West Virginia.

Former Senator Holt was the arch-isolationist and the bitterest critic of the administration foreign policy in the 76th Congress. His last contributions to the final pages of the Record included a long address which started: "I am going to tell you the truth about this drive to get us actively into

WHOLESALE FIRING

THERE'S been so much talk about re-employment and new jobs, I guess nobody will accuse me of being a gloom-spreader if I tell about the biggest wholesale firing taking place in Washington today.

It's over at the Census Bureau where 9,000 workers will be given the gate during 1941, approximately 3,000 of them in the next two or three months.

The firing job is so big that Census Director William L. Austin has had to set up a special committee to handle it. The committee has had to work out a firing formula which is sort of a hiring formula in reverse. Persons with highest efficiency ratings, those with dependents and those who live farthest from Washington will be retained longest.

The firing, of course, will be no great news to most of the employees. Although the census jobs last from one to two years, they are considered "temporary."

An odd twist to the census employment situation is that although the workers are going out by the dozens, the bureau is also hiring by the dozens. The new employees are expert machine operators who will be used in the vast task of tabulating, coding and classifying America's 130-odd millions.

FUNNY BUSINESS

Stamp Stumpers

You can lick an airmail stamp, but you can't keep it down, goes the current saying, and there's more than a pun in the phrase.

When you lick a stamp, it's only the beginning of a series of operations that speeds your letter to its destination. See how much you know about the post office by enveloping these questions.

1. What would the postage be on a three-ounce airmail letter traveling from New York to California?

2. What is the special delivery rate on a first-class package weighing eight pounds?

3. What man, other than a U. S. President, has had his portrait on U. S. stamps continuously from the time the first adhesive stamp was issued in this country?

4. What is the franking privilege?

5. How old must a person be to open a postal savings account?

CRANIUM CRACKERS

Food for health:

Browned Liver and Vegetables

1 pound liver
2 tablespoons oil
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup diced turnips (uncooked)
2 tablespoons chopped onions
1/4 cup diced
celery
1/4 cup onion
1/4 cup carrot
1 cup cooked
carrots

Cut liver into inch squares, sprinkle with flour and paprika and brown in fat heated in a fry pan. Transfer to a buttered shallow baking dish and add other ingredients. Cover and bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven. Uncover and bake 15 minutes to brown. Serve in the baking dish.

Spice Sticks

1/2 pound dough
(2 cups flour)
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup brown sugar

Pat out dough until half an inch thick on a floured paper. Sprinkle with other ingredients. Fold half over and press together. Use a sharp knife and cut into finger lengths. Prick each and carefully transfer to a greased shallow pan. Bake eight minutes in a moderate oven. Serve hot.

Stamp Stumpers

You can lick an airmail stamp, but you can't keep it down, goes the current saying, and there's more than a pun in the phrase.

When you lick a stamp, it's only the beginning of a series of operations that speeds your letter to its destination. See how much you know about the post office by enveloping these questions.

1. What would the postage be on a three-ounce airmail letter traveling from New York to California?

2. What is the special delivery rate on a first-class package weighing eight pounds?

3. What man, other than a U. S. President, has had his portrait on U. S. stamps continuously from the time the first adhesive stamp was issued in this country?

4. What is the franking privilege?

5. How old must a person be to open a postal savings account?

Easing Pain!

Every practicing Physician has much for which to thank those Doctors and Scientists who perfected anaesthesia.

Ether, Chloroform and Gas have made it possible to abolish pain, save the patient's nerves and allow the Physician to perform a careful, pain-taking, thorough operation with the smallest amount of danger.

What a humane boon to the race anaesthesia has proven to be. Contrast the quick, clean, painless hospitalization of the operative case today, and the terrible ordeals of an amputation, operation or child-birth before anaesthesia.

Physicians are truly thankful for anaesthesia and what it has made possible in medical practice.

Thank your lucky star you live in this enlightened, Scientific age.

CHURCH REVIVALS

PILGRIM HOLINESS

There will be a service at 7:30 o'clock this evening in "The Little White Church" in Fourth avenue. Rev. H. S. Bennett, of Yonkers, Mich., engaged as evangelist. All are invited to hear him. He will also speak at three o'clock Sunday afternoon, as well as at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The revival services will continue all next week.

At last night's service, Rev. Shoff of the Corydon Nazarene church, sang two beautiful selections, much enjoyed by those present. Rev. Markell, of the Pittsfield Wesleyan Methodist church, led the congregation in prayer.

A YOUTHFUL PANEL-FRONT DRESS

PATTERN 4507

By Anne Adams

The fashion-wise woman looks ahead! Her new cotton frocks are neat and practical for at-home wear now; smart and becoming for out-of-door life next spring and summer. And she knows that a frock like Pattern 4507 will see her through the seasons. You'll love this style for those unusually flattering lines, from its long front panel to its back skirt panel; from its slender pointed side-waist to its wide young collar that looks so refreshing in white. Choose long or short sleeves. And do use colorful ric-rac at the collar, the short sleeves and perhaps even the waist-seams. You'll have no sewing difficulties with the Instruction Sheet for guidance.

Pattern 4507 is available in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric, 2 1/2 yard contrast and 1 1/2 yards ric-rac.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

Are you too tall? Too short? Too plump? Too slim? If you are irregularly proportioned in any way, let the ANNE ADAMS PERFIT FOUNDATION PATTERNS 4114 take the guess-work out of dressmaking. This "basic figure" pattern is fitted and adjusted to your exact measurements in tissue; then cut out in muslin for a permanent record. Pin your dress patterns to it and the necessary changes, and the finished frock will fit with perfection. Designed for sizes 14 to 20; size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric. Price 15c. Send your order to Warren Times-Mirror, Pattern Department, 243 West 17th St., New York, N. Y.

Three Productions Cast in the Annual "Evening of Plays"

The school calendar is moving around to the annual "Evening of Plays," to be presented in the high school auditorium on Tuesday evening, February 4, by members of the High School Dramatic Club.

This particular evening is looked forward to by members of the club because of the large number of pupils being given the opportunity of participating. It is enjoyed by the school and the public because of its pleasing variety of plays.

This year the club is presenting "Why—Herbert," which is a realistic picture of family life in those homes where there is so much company that the home is no longer a home. The cast for this production is composed of George Phillips, Patty Knapp, Patty Hand, James Harding, Elizabeth Larson, James Horton, Dorothy Ann Harris, Melvin Greenwood, Ben Taylor and Barbara Smith.

The farce for the evening is "Sweet Clean Off Her Feet," where the sweeper salesmen do very efficient work. Joe Summerville, Leon Christensen, Bill Green, Betty Edinger, Gloria Genge and Aline Samuelson form the cast.

Jane Sherwood, Betty Jean Peterson, Beverly Milway, Mae Lawson, Jean Morrison, Betty Johnson and Richard Rapp are the students who will be seen in the dramatic fantasy which portrays the happenings in that space between "Time and Eternity."

This program, being prepared by the club and director, Miss Anna Louise Kahn, promises an evening of unusual entertainment on February 4.

PLEASANT GRANGE HAS INSTALLATION

All officers were present Thursday night for the regular meeting and installation of Pleasant Grange and to enjoy several selections by Bob and Jeanne Trummer on accordion and electric Hawaiian guitar.

The meeting continued in open form while Lloyd Wilcox, of Farmington Grange, assisted by Evan Wilcox, Laura Jane and Doris Johnson and with Frances Dove acting as chaplain.

The slate installed was composed of: Master, Glenn Kiser; overseer, Roy Snively; lecturer, Velma Lindsey; steward, Clair Wilcox; assistant steward, Herman Wertz; chaplain, Josephine Schumann; secretary, Gladys Schwab; treasurer, Ethel Buchanan; gatekeeper, Jim Pierce; Cere, Evelyn Genberg; Pomona, Ethel Johnson; Flora, Adelaide Genberg; lady assistant steward, Victoria Wertz; executive committee member, Harry Johnson.

Very interesting talks were given by C. J. Frantz, Walter Ward, David Van Orsdale and Lloyd Wilcox. Mr. Wilcox invited the Misses Johnson and Mrs. Dove to accompany him to Corydon next Monday evening for installation of that unit's officers. All Grangers were reminded of and invited to the seventh degree meeting to be held at Brokenstraw Grange on January 16.

To conclude, a delicious lunch was served by the committee: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hamblin, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kittinger, with guests from Chandelers Valley, Farmington, Warren and Ackley.

ACKLEY JUVENILE

Eleven members of the Ackley Juvenile Grange attended a very successful meeting held for the purpose of installing the following officers for the new year:

Master, Norm Holt; overseer, Alvin Cable; steward, Dorothy Way; assistant steward, Donald Cable; lecturer, Pauline Cable; chaplain, Charles Cable; secretary, Paul Cable; treasurer, Gladys Arthur; Cere, Phyllis Nelson; gatekeeper, Clair Cable; lady assistant steward, Beverly Lundmark. Mrs. Virginia Shaw was installed as matron by the subordinate Grange.

At this meeting the two new members received the degree and the new lecturer presented a fine program of songs and recitations, with a few conundrums, readings and a spelling contest.

Everyone was requested to be present as early as possible for the next meeting, so that the session might be started on time.

First Lady to Lead Infantile Paralysis Discussion Broadcast From White House

According to an announcement received today from the headquarters in New York, a discussion of the infantile paralysis problem at the White House tea given annually by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, in support of the campaign for the celebration of the President's birthday, will be broadcast over two national networks.

Participating in the program, to be heard over the Mutual Broadcasting System and the network of the National Broadcasting Company from 4:30 to 4:45 p. m. on Tuesday, will be Mrs. Roosevelt; Mrs. Claude E. Wickard, wife of the new secretary of agriculture; Miss Grace Moore, Metropolitan opera star; Miss Dorothy Ducas, director of women's activities of the national committee; and nine-year-old Delores Frances, who is recovering from infantile paralysis.

Also attending the tea will be Mrs. Cordell Hull, wife of the secretary of state, and Mrs. Henry A. Wallace, wife of the vice president-elect.

Mrs. Roosevelt will lead the discussion, which will emphasize the part women can play in the annual drive for dimes and dollars through the new "Home parties plan." The broadcast, originating in the diplomatic reception room of the White House, will stress the urgent need for action in the face of a sharp increase in infantile paralysis cases from the past year, during which 10,000 persons were stricken.

The First Lady will inaugurate at the tea in the state dining room, specially-designed table decorations of red, white and blue crepe paper, with gold paper "Helping Hands for the Helpless" place cards. The decorations, designed by Lester Gaba, are the motif of this newest phase of the fight infantile paralysis campaign. The meeting and tea will be followed by dinner at the Carlton Hotel in honor of Mrs. Roosevelt, at which Keith Morgan, national chairman of the committee, will preside.

The campaign for funds by the committee for the celebration of the President's birthday opens throughout the nation on Monday and will continue through January 30, President Roosevelt's birthday.

AMERICANA CHURCH SUPPER

BY RAY PEACOCK

AP Feature Service Writer

Scratch your head and think real hard, and you'll probably decide that the last time you really got so filled up you thought you would bust was at a church supper.

You may recall with most eyes that plank table with its sawhorse supports, sagging with the weight of pies, preserves, jams, cakes, cookies, pickles, potatoes, meat and many things more, all in such variety that you needed to take only the things you liked best to have more than enough.

And it was a question which church supper you liked best to attend. You were influenced to the Methodists by Mrs. Matthews without equal in town for making meat loaf because of its liberal sprinkling of sage.

But you would backslide when the Presbyterians had a supper because of your weakness for Mrs. McDonald's devil food cake with white icing.

A notice that the Baptists would be serving was enough to change your mind again because it meant Mrs. Webster's mince pie made without cotton. When you heard that the Catholic church was serving a chicken supper you bought a ticket eagerly because Mrs. Kennedy always saved out plenty of white meat for you.

And then again, you wish you had been born a Lutheran, because only when the Lutheran ladies got together for a luteisk supper could you count on Mrs. Peterson's lefsa. Maybe you didn't care for the luteisk but there coffee fine meat balls and better coffee than you could get anywhere else.

All in all it made you mighty tolerant.

FARMINGTON GRANGE

Following a 7:30 o'clock supper, the regular meeting of Farmington Grange was called to a business session, with guests from Brokenstraw, Valley and Ackley. Mrs. W. G. Lacy and Mrs. Lloyd Wilcox, the committee appointed to work out the Bundles for Britain project, reported having received and packed a large quantity of garments for knitting and they will receive contributions of clothing at the Grange hall on Friday afternoons. It was voted to respond to an appeal from Shiloh Grange in Susquehanna county.

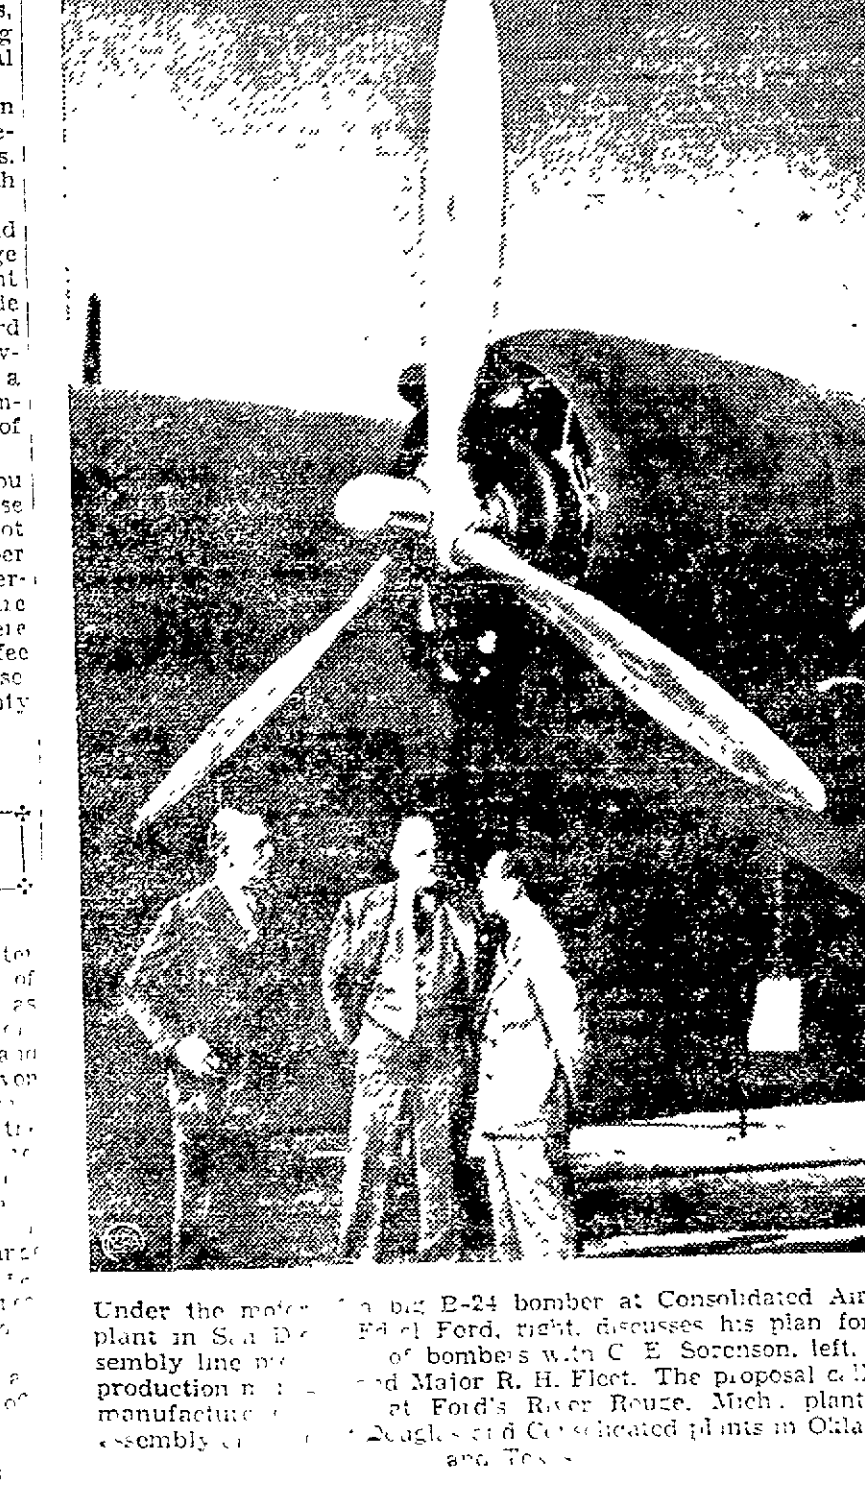

Leo Johnson, of Youngsville, a staff installed Farmington Grange. His assistants were Mrs. H. H. Johnson, Mrs. M. H. Johnson, regalia bearer; Mrs. Ella Culver, chaplain.

BIRTHS

AT MATERNITY

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Proper, of Youngsville, are the parents of twin babies, a girl and a boy, born this morning at 8:33 and 8:42 o'clock, respectively. Each weighed four pounds, 15 1/2 ounces.

Corydon

Corydon, Jan. 11—Members of the Wednesday Night Social met with Mrs. Lida Wilcox. Cards occupied the evening after which prizes were awarded for various scores.

A number attended the meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service Thursday afternoon.
The hostess is being circulated among local citizens asking aid for wiring of the school building.

Local Basketeers Win First Start In Northern "A" Circuit

Fourth Period Spurt Gives Dragons 28-16 Victory Over Elkers

LOUIS TO FLAIL GODDY AGAIN IN CALIFORNIA RING

A pair of photographs appearing on the front page of Jamestown's evening paper the other night were enough to have made Warren sport fans turn green with envy. They were shots of Jamestown's new municipal ball park where the Pony League will operate next season, and, although the grandstand is in process of construction, it is easily discerned that our neighboring city is going to have a plant of which its citizens can be most proud. Which, of course, bungs up the Pony league in respect to Warren. Our last conversation with officials of the school board several weeks ago wasn't very heartening, particularly because their queries were in regard to improvements if any, made at the local park. They intimated that arrangements might be made to lease the school board's field for the baseball season if it were fenced and a suitable stand were constructed, but one glimpse of the wastelands of Russell Field and the moguls just smiled politely. Had the metal fence which was ordered been up to specifications, the park would now be three-fourths fenced, and this project will probably be completed in the spring. It is rumored that the balance of the fence will be included in the next budget, however, and the whole job done at one time, which will help matters considerably.

O. W. McNary, well-known Erie schoolman, who suffered, along with other Erie partisans, last fall when Massillon High rode roughshod over the Academy Lions, is glad to explain why that city couldn't produce an outfit like the Tigers. In the first place, the tendency at present toward de-emphasis of interscholastic athletics, particularly "football" of course, is a factor. McNary is correct in the statement, and the utterance qualifies him for membership on the PIAA board of control. "Our policy does not produce teams of outstanding abilities year after year," he said, "but they do produce good teams, and, for more important, they provide wholesale physical development for the maximum number of boys with a minimum of danger to their physical well-being." McNary also cited the truism that cities with more than one school never develop super-teams.

Dat of debbil, "De-emphasize" is a funny little term. Our definition of it is, "A goal aimed at schools whose prospects for future athletic successes are not particularly bright." In other words, a coach faced with dismal prospects would say, "We're going to have a rotten club next year and perhaps the year after, and it looks like a complete rebuilding process is necessary. Now, I plan to take this year's freshmen, who aren't bad, and build for—etc., etc." The procedure at the present is for the principal and/or to come front and center with the following statement for public consumption. "Inasmuch as the faculty and/or the trustees feel that entirely too much emphasis is being placed upon football in the school (you may substitute "college"), we have decided that a complete program of de-emphasizing the number of victories and of installing sound minds in sound bodies." What he really means, if you can read between the lines, is about as follows. "Boys, the alumni just haven't got the cash to send athletes to dear old Siwash. Furthermore, Coach 'Butch' McGlutz has outlived his usefulness, but we can't pay a better one. So we're just going to struggle along until better times arrive, and then we'll show you a real ball club." The same time, with slightly different words, is being yelled in many of the high schools, which are busily engaged in de-emphasizing after being battered from pillar to post all season.

YEARS AGO IN SPORT
January 11, 1921—The Penn State and Furnace, led by Harry Conroy with 18 points, topped the Flying Five from first place in the basketball league last night, 32-26. Seavy led the losers with 14 points.
January 11, 1931—Joe Brndis, of the Atwater Kent team, is leading the City League scorers in the first five games with a total of 40 points. Bill Mulvey of the Yes Gas is second with 39 and Leo Rossetti of Bairds is third with 38.

PITTSBURGH REPORTS EPIDEMIC OF COLDS

Pittsburgh Jan 11 (P) School authorities in several suburban districts reported abnormal absentee lists yesterday as a result of an outbreak of grip and cold. Hardest hit was Turtle Creek high school, with six teachers and 350 of its 1400 students reported ill. Suburbs reporting up to 12 per cent of the high school student body ill were North Braddock, Rankin, East Pittsburgh Home stead and West Homestead. Absentee lists in Pittsburgh proper were normal.

DUTCH HARRISON Lou Nova Decisions SIX UNDER PAR Comiskey In Initial AT HALF MARK Chapter Of Comeback

Oakland Calif., Jan. 11 (P) Six strokes under par and apparently as hot as a pepper, Lanky E. J. "Dutch" Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., today scored a diminished field total of 131 in the third round of the 12-hole 8000 Oakland Open golf tournament.

Harrison has a three-shot advantage over his closest rival, H. J. Dodson, who shot 137 in the second round. Harrison's score of 131 is a new record for the tournament. He is now 131 under par, while Dodson is 119 under par.

Close up to the pace at 130 blows were Tommy Demaret of Houston Tex. tournament winner here last year, and Harry Cooper, of Chicago, Mass. as a result of his 67 in the second round started off with a 110.

Within striking distance as the third round opened were Lawson Little, United States Open champion, Sam Snead, the Virginia who rode a winter tournament swing into fame a few years ago, and two amateurs, former U. S. national title holder, Marvin B. Wain of Spokane, and Elmer Prent, Jr. of San Jose, all in the 111 class.

Led by Dick Check and Norm Wooster, who knocked off 640 and 623 respectively, the Kuch-Texas Lunch Inter-City five got off to a three-point start last night as the second half opened by knocking off their fellow townsmen the Marconi Club, for three points.

The Texas crew slumped badly in the second game but was over 1000 in the first and third to win by 255 pins.

Norm's 268 was the best single game, with Check right behind with a 244. Barry Malone's 212 was the only Marconi score in the 200 class.

KINZUA IN UPSET WIN OVER LANDER

The Upper Allegheny League saw an upset of no little proportions last night as the Kinzua Warriors scored a surprise 21-17 victory over Lander on the latter's court.

The Massamen were forced to stage a rally in the last period to come from behind for the win. Culbertson got a pair of field goals and a foul in that period while Bennett crashed through with a bucket and a free throw, the latter being made after the whistle ending the game. Wilcox scored ten of Lander's 17 points.

Lander's girls team evened matters in the picnic, 20-16.

ing on his new show "Yokel Bo," which opened here Monday—and was found dead in bed about 5 p. m., by his wife, who went in to see why he had not kept an appointment. Doctors said he had been dead about four hours.

Only the night before, friends said, Penner—born Josef Pinter in a tiny Hungarian village—had appeared in his gayest mood. After the curtain which was to be his last, he escorted Mrs. Penner and Comedienne Martha Raye, their guest, to a night club.

Robert Crawford, his co-producer and general manager, said the star called upon returning to the hotel and seemed "in the best of spirits." They made an appointment, and it was Crawford's second phone call which sent Mrs. Penner into her husband's room.

Mrs. Penner, the former Mae Vogt, a dancer in Joe's first show, was placed under a physician's care.

There was no understudy for the star of "Yokel Bo" and the Lo-ust street theatre was dark last night. Crawford has not decided whether it will be continued.

Penner was brought to this country at the age of nine by his grandparents, and joined his parents in Detroit, where the father worked in a motor factory. School and a series of odd jobs had no appeal for youngster who classmates said showed more aptitude for clowning than classes, but a prize for an amateur impersonation of Charlie Chaplin started him on his way.

His first theatrical job was assistant to a mind reader—until the comedian on the bill failed to show up. Penner stepped in, and there followed several seasons of vaudeville, carnivals, burlesques and nightclubs. The first big break came in 1926, a role at $375 a week in the Greenwich Village Follies. In 1933 Rudy Vallee had him as guest star on radio, and a few weeks later Penner was featured on his own program.

There was a jurisdictional squabble in the offing, however, with Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the military committee, who said the bill was "clearly, plainly and simply a national defense measure and should go to that committee." May called his group to meet today to decide what steps, if any, it should take to gain control of the legislation.

In the senate, the measure was sent to the foreign relations committee and Chairman George (D-Ga.) said the group would decide on procedure at a meeting Wednesday.

They have generally been at odds with administration foreign policy. On the other hand, Senator Austin of Vermont, the acting Republican leader of the senate said that, while he was in sympathy with the basic administration foreign policy, he believed there should be some check on the authority proposed for the president.

The house was expected to act first on the measure, and Chairman Bloom (D-NY) called his foreign affairs committee to consider it Monday. Bloom said he hoped to complete hearings by Thursday.

In the senate, the measure was sent to the foreign relations committee and Chairman George (D-Ga.) said the group would decide on procedure at a meeting Wednesday.

They have generally been at odds with administration foreign policy. On the other hand, Senator Austin of Vermont, the acting Republican leader of the senate said that, while he was in sympathy with the basic administration foreign policy, he believed there should be some check on the authority proposed for the president.

The house was expected to act first on the measure, and Chairman Bloom (D-NY) called his foreign affairs committee to consider it Monday. Bloom said he hoped to complete hearings by Thursday.

There was a jurisdictional squabble in the offing, however, with Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the military committee, who said the bill was "clearly, plainly and simply a national defense measure and should go to that committee." May called his group to meet today to decide what steps, if any, it should take to gain control of the legislation.

action on the aid legislation, which, in addition to authorizing the loan and lease of war equipment on any terms the president may fix, would permit the communication of "defense information" to warring democracies and allow the repair of British warships and planes in American shipyards and factories.

But in several quarters opposition of various sorts was developing. One group of opponents, including Senators Johnson (R-Calif.), Wheeler (D-Mont.) and Clark (D-Mo) discussed the measure at an informal conference last night.

They were expected to try to defeat the bill, and, failing that, to propose a number of restrictive amendments.

WARREN RELIEF REPORT SHOWS MANY ASSISTED

At the annual meeting of the Warren Relief Association, it was shown in the report of Mrs. Alfred Cobb, in charge of headquarters at 229 Liberty street, that 385 families had received some kind of aid during the year just concluded.

In addition, 124 transients received aid. Pieces of clothing given out totaled 5,913; also 1,226 pairs of shoes and rubbers. Most of these articles of clothing and shoes were second hand and made possible through the Lions' Club collection drive. For the new garments, the Needlework Guild contributed 425. The remaining garments were purchased by funds received through the Community Chest. It was also reported that 100 Thanksgiving baskets had been distributed to the needy. The financial statement for the year ending December 31, 1940 was presented as follows:

Cash on hand Jan. 1, 1940 $1,143.81
Total income for 1940 $4,238.58

Total $5,382.39
Less expenditures for 1940 4,529.80

Cash on hand Dec. 31, 1940 $ 852.59

Income 1940
Community Chest $2,500.00
Thanksgiving offering 27.00
Milk bottles 128.01
Rebates 1.00
Individuals, churches, schools, clubs 282.57
Total $4,238.58

Expenditures 1940
Rents $ 189.00
Fuel 214.07
Food and milk 2,874.47
Shoes 119.32
Clothing 384.13
Drugs 16.58
Electricity 25.96
Water 95.62
Telephone 41.00
Sundry 45.62
Administration 551.62
Total $4,529.80

Sundries in the disbursements included office supplies, insurance, dry cleaning, shoe repairs, care of sick, board in foster homes, dental work, moving, purchase of stoves and other household furnishings, disposal, check charges, etc.

In addition to other business transacted at the session, the following officers were elected for 1941: President, Mrs. Paul E. Stewart; first vice president, Mrs. Lester A. Blair; second vice president, Mrs. Henry B. Taylor; secretary, Mrs. Oscar Granquist; treasurer, Mrs. Rose Fisher.

Magic Spring

YESTERDAY: Polly and David have had to postpone their marriage because at the last minute, David's young cousin, descended upon him. And David must care for the boy. David is working at the Powers Lumber Company, remembering Peter's desire to be up the old and bankrupt man which is David's one passion besides his home. Peter wants to be the old swimming pool.

Chapter Nine Lunch With The Boss

"I'm afraid," David remembered saying, "that the pipes which used to bring the water down from the spring are all rusty and clogged. But I'll see what I can do."

David now turned an invoice sheet and went on with his checking. Not a bad idea, having a place to swim when the hot weather set in. But like everything else, money was the chief issue. It would probably take quite a sum to put the pool in order.

He heard a footfall behind him and turned to see Mr. Powers. "Hello, David!" the lumberman greeted. "That's a beautiful lot of pine we're getting off in this shipment."

"Yes, sir," said David. "It is. Smith's lot, too, doesn't it?" Mr. Powers breathed deeply. "Nothing more fragrant than the odor of clean lumber," he said. And then: "By the way, I've just gotten hold of a very good book on reforestation. I thought you might like to read it, since you talk the other day about the time when all the trees would be felled."

"Thanks," said David. "I would like to read it." He grinned. "I had a dream the other night, in which I was wandering through a huge tract of land on which was nothing but endless trees—jumps and all at once I seemed to hear a voice saying, 'Please plant a new tree every time you cut down one of us.' It sure got me to thinking."

"I've seen just such a tract of land in reality," Mr. Powers said. "It's a pretty tragic-looking sight. I tell you, come on up to the house and I'll give you a look at the way you can have a look at the rejuvenated tennis court. Margo's been getting it in shape. Maybe you two can get in a set or two."

"Are you sure it won't interfere with Margo's plans?" David asked. "Having a good lunch on such short notice?"

"Certainly not," said Mr. Powers. "But I'll go telephone her that I'm bringing you with me."

"All right," said David. "Thanks. I would like to see that book—but I haven't played for a mighty long time."

A short time later he was in the lumber plant office. He had just begun a typed tabulation of the shipment of lumber he had been checking out in the yard, when the telephone rang.

"For you, David," said someone who answered. "David, he walked over and took the receiver. 'Hello,' he said.

"David, this is Polly. I'm calling you from the tearoom. Could you come here for your lunch today? I want to talk to you for a few minutes."

David was on the verge of saying he would be there, when he remembered Mr. Powers' invitation.

"Gosh, honey," he said. "I'm sorry. Mr. Powers has asked me to go up to his house for lunch."

"Oh," said Polly. "He's got a book on reforestation. I want to see it. David went on. 'We're both interested in that sort of thing, you know.'"

"Yes I know," said Polly. And then: "All right, what I've got to talk over will keep."

"Couldn't I come over to your place this evening?" David asked. "Of course," said Polly. "Margo Powers dates you up."

Tonight At Eight
THAT David thought, didn't sound a bit like Polly. The slight tinge of sarcasm he detected in her remark wasn't characteristic of Polly—not a bit.

"There's no danger of that," he said. "Gosh, like Margo don't date up small-town guys like me."

"Not again that time of sunset?" "I'm afraid you don't know very much about women. But I'll look for you around eight."

"I'll be there," David assured. "Can't you tell me now what's on your mind and then discuss it in detail this evening?"

"I'd rather not," said Polly. "Not over the telephone."

"Okay, then—Tonight at eight," David hung up the receiver and went back to his typing. Something was bothering Polly. He could tell by the tone of her voice. It was probably the same thing that had been bothering her the other evening out at the Inn. He worried him. He wished that he hadn't told Mr. Powers that he would go up to the house for his lunch hour. He would much rather lunch at the tearoom, and find out what was on Polly's mind. He was even tempted to break the engagement, ask Mr. Powers if he could make it some other day. And yet he didn't like to do this. After all, Mr. Powers was his boss, and he was trying to be kind and helpful. Finally he forced himself to put everything out of his mind but the work at hand. He finished the tabulation just as Mr. Powers came out of his private office to say that Margo was expecting them at twelve-thirty sharp.

And presently he was seated in the long, paneled dining room of the Powers house up on the hill. "I personally selected every piece of oak that went into those panels," Mr. Powers said with pride. "A lot of people go to Europe and buy the paneled walls of some castle, but not Andy Powers. Me for the wood of my own country."

Margo laughed. "Suppose you forget wood for a little while, Dad," she said. "Surely you and David have plenty of contact with wood down at the plant. Let's talk about something else."

"All right," said her father. "I guess I do talk business too much. Go on, you two youngsters, and talk about what interests you. I'll apply myself to the food."

"But I like to discuss business with you," said David. "I'm all wrapped up in my work. I like it. That's fine my boy! But we mustn't bore our guests!"

"Hurry and finish your lunch, David," said Margo. "I want you to have a look at the tennis court. Dad said we might have time for a set."

"I'd like to," said David. "but I just remembered I haven't any tennis sneakers." "Dad has some around someplace," said Margo. "You can wear his."

"He'd be lost in them," Andy Powers laughed. "He couldn't even keep them on!"

"Oh, damn!" said Margo. "Ask me for tennis some other time," said David. "and then I'll come prepared."

"I will," said Margo. "Don't worry!"

Margo Begins
HOWEVER, as soon as the lunch was over, she insisted that David see the court, whether they played or not. And they went out a side door down through a beautiful sunken garden and across a stretch of velvet lawn.

"Gosh!" said Margo. "Isn't it a beauty!"

"Gosh!" said David. "It sure is. Darned if I don't believe I'll take off my shoes and play in my stocking-feet."

"I tried to have the court made exactly like one I once saw on the French Riviera," said Margo. "All I needed was a view of the ocean. I had to be content with a view of our little pond!"

David looked at her. "It must be pretty wonderful to have seen so many places," he said. "You must have stored up a lot of memories for your old age."

"Gosh," said Margo. "But sometimes I wonder if people like you haven't stored up a lot of memories also—maybe memories that are a lot more worthwhile than mine."

"I wouldn't know about them being more worthwhile than mine," David said. "I don't know. I've got a lot of memories, all right. They aren't backed by a lot of color and fun, though. I'm afraid most of them would strike you as being pretty drab."

Margo dropped down upon a bench near the tennis court. "Sit down," she invited. And when David had taken a place beside her, she said: "From what Dad tells me, you've spent most of your life looking after other people."

"Oh, well, that was nothing," David said. "After all, they were my kin-folks. And I reckon I'm one of those fellows who have a pretty strong family feeling."

"But you missed a lot of fun," Margo said. "Sure! Lots of men and women of my generation have missed that. We got sort of used to it after a while."

Margo leaned toward David. Her arm touched his. "Give me a cigarette, David, will you?" she said. David took a package from his pocket. He lighted a cigarette for Margo, and one for himself.

Margo drew on hers, and said: "It's not too late for you to have some fun, you know."

"I reckon not," said David. "But fun takes time, and I seem to be pretty short of that nowadays; what with working at the plant, taking care of my new charge, and trying to shine up things out at the Inn."

"I saw Peter the other day," said Margo. "He's a cute little fellow, isn't he?"

"Yes," said David. Then laughing, he said: "But I'm afraid Peter wouldn't like your description of him."

"Why?"

"Oh, I don't know exactly, only he considers himself quite a young man. And he's capable of all right-out," David looked at his watch. "Say, it's later than I thought! I ought to be getting back to the plant."

Margo got up. She crushed out her cigarette.

"I'm sorry we didn't get in some tennis," she said as they walked back to the house. "But now that the days are getting longer, maybe we can get in some sets in the evenings."

Grandson of Local Resident Listed in College Who's Who

It will interest many friends in this section to learn that a grandson of Mrs. Mary Peters, 4 Pennsylvania avenue, west, is listed in the latest issue of "Who's Who Among Students Among American Universities and Colleges."

The young man is Richard C. Peters, son of Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Peters, of Hastings, and candidate for bachelor of arts degree at Pennsylvania State College in June. His parents formerly resided here and will be remembered by many.

Young Peters is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, sports editor of the Daily Collegian and a member of two senior honor societies, Lion's Paw and Skull and Bones. He also holds membership in Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism honorary. He was graduated from Hastings High School, where he was class president for four years and valedictorian.

Jamestown District Epworth League to Hold Meeting Here

The Jamestown district mid-winter Epworth League Institute will be held in the local First Methodist church on Friday and Saturday, January 24 and 25, according to announcement made today by officials of the group.

Approximately 300 young people from some 50 leagues will be in Warren for the two-day period, participating in the usual inspirational institute program and classes. Plans are being completed by committees, in cooperation with regional churches. The following comprise the local committees on arrangements:

Housing, Mrs. N. D. Paterson and Miss Helen F. Ransom; meals, Mrs. Ethel Snedley, Mrs. R. C. Lewis and Mrs. G. E. Lowe; dining room, Mrs. Margaret Messinger; decorations, Miss Virginia Parsons; publicity, Miss Margaret Saylor; welcoming committee, Dick Ruhlman.

The program details will be announced later.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Jan. 11.—Dr. Eddie Anderson, the Iowa football maestro, again is a "man in white" in the urology department of the university hospital. . . Eddie Mead, who left a Hot Springs hospital to come here and see Henry Armstrong honored by the boxing circuit as we reported after all. His writers, didn't attend after all. His doctors vetoed it at the last minute. . . Frank Shaughnessy, Indiana national League president, has hopped aboard the Cardinal bandwagon in this year's National League race. . . Old Mac Smith is the only player in the California tournaments who still clings to the knicker costume.

Snowball Open

If there is a three-inch snowfall in Kansas City tomorrow, the Old Mission Golf Club plans a Snowball Open. . . Play will be with a red tennis ball, instead of a golf ball; instead of holding out putts, a player must hit the pin. . . Snow shoes and ear muffs will be standard equipment.

Near and Far

Beg pardon Dept.: From Gonzaga U. comes word that (A) it isn't going to de-emphasize football (as we reported), and (B) its press agent wasn't fired as the first step in that direction, but for another reason entirely. Sorry, gents. . . The Souja Heinie show drew $316,000 in ten Chicago performances. . . Wrestler Al Bisignano has smartened up and quit the racket to open a pub in Des Moines. . . Harold Lloyd, the flicker celeb, has sent in his entry for the forthcoming American Bowling Congress at St. Paul. . . The National Young Men's Chamber of Commerce is giving aircaster Red Barber an award tonight for the man under 35 who did the most for flatbush last year.

Short and Snappy

An argument over assistants, and not salary trouble, is the reason Frank Leahy hasn't signed that new five-year Boston College contract. . . Kansas City is a go over charges that pros are performing in an amateur cage loop out there. (The A. U. is investigating). . . The Jocks are complaining the new magnetic control game in use at Hialeah opens too slowly, and it may be replaced by another brand. . . A private poll of Southwest Conference coaches reveals the boys think Jess Neely at Rice turned in the outstanding job out there last season. . . Harold Conrad, boxing expert of the Brooklyn Eagle, is doubling as Broadway columnist and doing a slick job of it.

It's the Truth

If interviewed on the subject, Gabby Hartnett probably would say: "Dizzy Dean showed more speed signing his new contract than he showed me in the three years I had him."

Today's Guest Star

Tom Sweeney, Worcester Evening Gazette: "Jack Dempsey is the new sports editor of Liberty magazine. Now if they could only sign Gene Tunney to take over the literary department."

The state capitol building at Raleigh, N. C., 105 years old, is called a perfect example of Doric architecture.

ALTOONA BIDS FOR FRANCHISE IN LOOP

Altoona, Pa., Jan. 11.—(P)—This railroad city is making a strong bid for the Penn State Baseball Association franchise held by Beaver Falls last year. Under temporary plans discussed with officials of the league, Altoona would become a farm for Buffalo of the International League, the New York state club being a unit of the Detroit Tigers. The Altoona Tourist and Publicity Committee has launched plans to convert a cricket field, owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad, into a modern ball park equipped for night games.

HONUS WAGNER IS IN PIRATE FOLD

Pittsburgh, Jan. 11.—(P)—Signing his 1941 contract today, Pittsburgh's Coach Honus Wagner assured fans he would be around for his 30th year in the National League. The former shortstop played three seasons with the old Louisville club and 18 with the Pirates. He has coached the Bucs for the last eight years. Coaches Mike Kelly and Jake Flowers also have signed for '41.
